JAPANIZI: GOING, GOING, GONG!

Japanizi: Going, Going, Gong! welcomes kids and their families to the frantic and unpredictable world of a Japanese game show. In each episode, four unsuspecting teams of two enter a world filled with zany costumes, physical gags, over-the-top stunts and a cast of extraordinary characters including Host Yoshi, Judge Masa, Shinobi and his sidekick of ninjas.

Encouraged by a live Japanese studio audience, contestants face each other in three elimination rounds filled with Velcro walls, conveyor belts and giant fans. Viewers at home can enhance their experience of this zany and colourful world online with an extensive interactive website and synchronized second screen mobile app filled with hidden camera footage. Japanizi: Going, Going, Gong! is an adaptation of the hit series I Survived a Japanese Game Show – created by David Sidebotham.
