

THE ORIGINAL SKILLS COMPETITION SERIES
WHERE THE STAKES ARE AS HIGH AS THE TIDE!

RACE AGAINST THE TIDE

RACE AGAINST THE TIDE

World-class sand sculpting teams are put to the ultimate test as they compete against each other and also against Mother Nature in the form of the unstoppable ticking clock of the tide. They also need to nail the theme, impress the judges and avoid elimination!

The skilled competitors dig, pound, and carve their way to extraordinary sculptures entirely made of sand, for the judges' evaluation, before the tide comes crashing in to take their creations back out to sea. Plus, when it comes to sand carving, gravity is also boss; the natural jeopardy created by science provides authentic high stakes drama and gives the series truly unique format beats. A lot can go wrong in this physically demanding battle of skill and style - who will reign supreme and walk away with the grand prize and the title of Race Against the Tide Champions - and who will be washed away?

20 x 30' Episodes
