SCIENCEXPLOSIONS

"Science is everywhere you look, and science-magician, Eric wants to show you all of the amazing ways that science can be found all around us.

In each amazing episode, Eric shares the secrets of the world of science, technology, engineering and mathematics and teaches you ways to astound your friends and family with STEM based magic tricks and crafts! Imagine making your own speakers for your phone out of just a few common household items, or creating a high flying rocket ship with a soda bottle and a blast of water. It's all possible through the power of science, and remember, it's not magic, it's scientific!"

45 x 3.5' Episodes; Available in HD
